

How might we extend
the personal connection to the worker long after the work is over?